Healthy Natural Ecosystems and engaged empowered communities are the foundations of economic growth and sustainable development. Recognizing the inter-connectedness between the people and the ecosystems, a holistic approach of conservation of biodiversity is emphasized by placing equal emphasis on both forest and wildlife conservation and community development. Traffic-India works closely to fortify on ground protection of forest systems and strengthening the public education system. Environmental Education provides the much needed awareness and attitude for alternative livelihood options for youth and makes people take up practices to safeguard wildlife, rivers,
